The top half of the image is a collage. In the background, there's a faded portrait of a man in a military uniform. Overlaid on this are several images of military aircraft. At the top right, a blue and white propeller-driven plane is shown. Below it, several fighter jets are depicted in flight, some with 'U.S. NAVY' markings. The overall tone is historical and military.

Who gets the credit?

The bottom half of the image shows a close-up, low-angle shot of a fighter jet's cockpit. The jet is dark, and the sun is setting in the background, creating a bright orange glow. The cockpit canopy is prominent, and the wings of the jet are visible on either side.
